

Elective Courses

International Studies Minor

All courses chosen to fulfill the requirements of the International Studies Minor should be chosen in close consultation with an International Studies Minor advisor.

Elective courses meet the following criteria:

- Electives must deal with modern international phenomena (1815-present).
- Unlike core area courses, electives may focus on a single region or country of the world.
- Core area courses can also fulfill the elective requirement for the International Studies Minor.

PLEASE READ CAREFULLY:

- This list of courses is based on recent course offerings; any course on this list may or may not be offered during any term in the future. Please check the Student Admin system for course availability.
- Courses not on the list: Special topics courses, variable topics courses, courses taken on study abroad, and other courses not on this list may be considered for the minor if they meet the established criteria. A student wishing to include these in the minor should provide a syllabus for review by an International Studies Minor advisor.
