

Consumer Behavior

Consumer Behavior is an interdisciplinary field of study that draws on economics, communication, psychology, sociology, and marketing. It focuses on the study of individuals, groups, or organizations and the processes they use to select, secure, use, and dispose of products, services, experiences, or ideas to satisfy needs and the impacts that these processes have on the consumer and society.

Prerequisites

Among the courses typically included in a major focused on consumer behavior, several have prerequisites.

- For upper-level Communication courses: COMM 1000.
- For upper-level Psychology courses: PSYC 1100 and PSYC 1101 or PSYC 1103.
- For BADM 3750: a grade of C or better in each of the following courses: ACCT 2001; ECON 1200 or both 1201 and 1202; ENGL 1007 or 1010 or 1011 or 2011; MATH 1070Q and 1071Q or MATH 1132Q; and STAT 1000Q or 1100Q.
- ECON 1201 Principles of Microeconomics and courses on quantitative methods (statistics and a quantitative research methods course) are especially useful.

Required Courses

Your individualized major plan of study will consist of at least 36 credits of 2000-level or higher courses, 18 of which must be from the college granting your degree, and must include the following:

Research Methods Course

A research methods course will introduce you to how knowledge is produced and evaluated in a particular discipline. Choose one from an academic department that is integral to your major. Some examples include: COMM 2000Q, PSYC 2100WQ, SOCI 3201, or ECON 2311Q.

Capstone

UNIV 4600W Capstone Course, UNIV 4697W Senior Thesis, or an approved alternative.

Writing Intensive Course

A writing intensive course that is relevant to the major theme. This will normally be designated “W” in the course catalog and is in addition to the capstone.

We strongly recommend that you include an experiential learning component, such as an internship, research, or study abroad, in your plan of study.

Central to many plans of study focused on consumer behavior are the following courses:

- ARE 3222 Marketing and Consumer Behavior
- BADM 3750 Introduction to Marketing Management
- COMM 2500 Persuasion
